

Tomatoes (Large)

The tomato markets remain elevated due in part to adverse weather in both Florida and Mexico slowing production. Weekly tomato shipments from Mexico were especially lacking earlier this month. The weather in Florida is forecasted to be erratic during the next few weeks which could cause subpar tomato supplies to continue. That said, history suggests that the greater price risk in the tomato markets from here is to the downside. Idaho potato prices continue to firm. Additional price increases are anticipated throughout the spring.
