

Iceberg Lettuce (24 count)

The avocado markets continue to track well below year ago levels. Strong avocado imports from Mexico have weighed on the markets. Last week, imports from Mexico were 7% bigger than 2018. Season to date avocado imports are 12.2% more than the prior year. Some California avocado supplies should become available in the coming weeks. But history suggests that the risk in the avocado markets is to the upside. Warmer temperatures in Florida are helping the tomato crops, but the downside potential in prices is likely limited as well.
