

Tomatoes (Large)

The Idaho potato markets have been firm during the last couple of weeks tracking above year ago levels. This is despite February 1st U.S. potato holdings bigger than a year ago. For the date, U.S. potato stocks were 2.5% more than 2018 and the largest for the date in over a decade. Idaho potato supplies were 5.3% more than the previous year. These factors could temper the seasonal upward moves in the potato markets during the coming months. The tomato markets are depressed but the risk in prices is to the upside.
